

KFUMC 2022 Retreat Results – Update #1 – A New Mission Statement

Our 2022 Retreat already is producing results - a new Mission Statement for Kingsland First United Methodist Church (KFUMC).

Retreat Planners noted that over the years four different statements were used with KFUMC ministries and missions. While all the statements were helpful, using four of them fragmented our efforts to send a unified message to our members and our community about who we are as a congregation. A Task Force under the leadership of Communications Chair Lyn Hrivnak took on this task. The Task Force unanimously recommended and the Church Council unanimously approved the new Mission Statement. It's in your bulletin today at the end of the Order of Worship.

Over the next several weeks you will begin to see the new Mission Statement on other KFUMC publications, the Church Website, even our church stationery. This transition will take a little time as we use up existing resources with one of the old statements and replenish those resources with the new Mission Statement.

We wanted to share this good news with you as we
